Washington Homebrewers Association

The Washington Homebrewers Association is a cadre of Washington homebrewers representing clubs across the state as well as “independent” homebrewers aiming to push Washington homebrewing to a higher level. By pooling efforts across the state, we hope to help educate, coordinate, and celebrate homebrewing in our state.

Over the next few months, our newly formed organization and committees will be developing some new programs and tools aiming to help raise homebrewing awareness in Washington. As we go through the development process, we want your involvement and support!

As we work to get our website up and running, if you want to get involved now, please join the WAHA Yahoo Group.

Thanks for your support and keep brewing!
