For those who attended the Mead & Cider Judging Clinic at Big Al Brewing on July 18th, 2009, thanks for a great time. We had great discussion and some interesting meads & ciders to sample as well as about 20 different honey varietals.

Here are the handouts that were given if you were not able to make it. We will almost certainly do this again in the future. Watch the WAHA site and your local homebrew shop for upcoming info.
